

MAIRE CLERKIN

Irish Dance and Drama Workshops

MEET THE ARTIST:

A choreographer, dancer, actor, writer and director from London, Máire Clerkin founded her own Irish Dance theatre companies Clerkinworks (1994 – 2001) and The Hairy Marys (1984 – 1993). Since moving to California in 2003, Máire directed Cadence Irish Dance Theater in Arizona and now specializes in choreographing work for Irish Dance Academies, five of which have won regional championships for Dance Drama, and twice placed 5th in the World Championships. Máire, a certified teacher and adjudicator with the Irish Dancing Commission, Dublin, judges Irish dance competitions across the U.S. and Canada, in the UK and Australia. Her teaching credits include University of Limerick, Loyola Marymount University, L.A., Scripps College, California Dance Educators Association, Peninsula Performing Arts, the Los Angeles Music Center and Orange County Performing Arts Center. Choreographic credits include Dancing on Dangerous Ground in New York's Radio City Music Hall, Blind Fiddler of Glenadauch for the Drill Hall, London and The Bad Arm – Confessions of a Dodgy Irish Dancer, written and performed by Máire and directed by Dan O'Connor. Previous dance theatre productions include at the Dublin Festival, Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Royal Festival Hall, Royal Opera House and on national tour. Ms. Clerkin currently leads the school assembly group A Gaelic Gathering – Irish Music & Dance, which was first created for the World City series at the Walt Disney Concert Hall in 2007. She also led the children's Book of Kells storytelling workshop at the LA Irish Film Festival 2009.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOPS:

Irish Dance & Drama is typically a 14-session residency that is accessible and fun. The program enables students to develop social skills through teamwork, raise literacy and movement ability, discover cultural traditions, and build musical awareness. Students will gain a basic knowledge of Irish Dance, which they can apply to the dramatic reenactment of traditional Celtic folk tales.

Ideally suited to support the curriculum in Language Arts, Irish Dance & Drama focuses on interpreting the written word through participatory movement. The program adapts a Celtic myth or folk tale to sessions involving traditional footwork and 'Ceili' social dances from Ireland. Improvised movement, ensemble narration, acting methods, character creation, plot, rhythmic body percussion, and text exploration are also taught. Each class will get the opportunity to enact a scene from the story in a culminating performance.

BEFORE THE WORKSHOP:

- Please have the students wear nametags for the workshop. It saves time if they are made beforehand!
- Review the importance of listening and observing. Ask the students what it means to be a good listener. What does it mean to be a good observer? Why is it important in daily life? Why is it important when the artist is here?
- Please encourage the students to dress appropriately -- in clothes that allow them to move comfortably.
- Have a VCR/DVD and monitor, as well as a chalkboard and chalk or a paper pad and marker ready for her workshops.
- Review students' ideas about dance, underscoring the idea that it is both personal and universal, and that everyone's ideas will be both different and related. Discuss the importance of being able to express oneself through movement and dance. Where can they use this skill in their lives?
- Discuss the professions that utilize the skills learned in a dance class (e.g., focus, discipline, creative problem-solving, controlling the body and challenging energy into expressive communication, etc.).

AFTER THE WORKSHOP:

- Review the major points presented in the workshops. What were the most important ideas? What parts of the workshop did the students like best? What did they learn about dance? What did they learn about themselves?
- Practice the warm-ups, skills and creative explorations done in class so students can attain more comfort, ability and involvement in movement and dance.
- Apply the techniques and strategies for making dances, presented by the artist, to other poems, books, music, painting and areas of the curriculum.
- Read the story and discuss the characters, plot, setting and emotions.
